Actress. Who Sailed as Stewardcas on Same Boat, Is Going to Reform Him.

Henckeng, July 19 .- Hector Fuller, once a war correspondent, who has for weeks been trailing J. Lawrence Mott vorks of New York, overtook young at a high salary as a kind of guardian for Mott, but the latter gave him the steward on the tramp steamship Indradeo, bound for China, on May 18. on the same ship there sailed an ac tress, wife of a wealthy Long Island man. She had booked as stewardees and Mott as steward to evade the antipassenger carrying laws.

former war correspondent gave chase and arrived at successive ports in the Mediterranean, the Red Sea and the Indian Ocean only a few hours behind his quarry. It is uncertain, however, what he can do with his man with new that he has caught him. Mott President Gomez boarded the ship as he is going to settle in Japan.

The parents of John Lawrence Mott originally intended that he spite a formulal rain.

But the sentimentalist foiled plauded the returning soldiers. all the plans laid for his welfare and shipped from this port on May 18 as a purser on the tramp steamer Indradeo ound for China.

Young Mott signed himself "L. Marin." Furthermore Frances Hewitt, an actress, wife of Walter Bowne of Millington, was aboard as a stewardess and passed as "Mrs. Martin."

When the Mott family became aware of the entire situation they secured passage immediately on the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm leaving the war correspondent, who was supposed to be "guarding" the fugitive poet, to follow on the Maure-

Fuller and the Motts, father and mother, hoped that the guardian would intercept his charge at Gibraltar, but young Mott, equipped with funds to the extent of $3,000 in cash and a letter of credit for $10,000, was able to make his way about with lightning rapidity.

The poet and the actress reached Gibraltar on May $1, and there on the deck of the tramp ship with its prosaic cargo of freight, while the soft zephyrs the south tumbled their hair in artistic confusion, they confessed their love, Mrs. Bowne declared that she was so fond of young Mott she would his Cabinet at once. In her affidavit Mrs. Morrill said that her husband began to treat her cruelly shortly after the marriage, and refused to permit her to have a home of her own. In the home of her mother-inlaw are seven other relatives of her husband, she said, and it was through helr treatment that she was compelled to remain in her room. She said her husband told her a few months ago that she was not wanted there and if she would get out he could obtain a divorce on the ground of desertion. Later, the affidavit reads, he met her and said, "What? Are you here She replied, "I'm waiting for you to stop sending me the little bit that I eat."

Mrs. Morrill said that her husband said to her in April, "I wish you would get out of here; I don't care anything for you. The children can stay with

You Owe Yourself a Taste of Colorado

You feel the need of a complete change and rest occasionally. Everybody does. Now in all the world there is probably no country which combines such perfect climate, glorious scenery, and the op-portunity to live comfortably and well at moderate cost, as Colorado. Colorado with its wealth of wild flowers, its wonderfully pure, clear mountain air, and its sparkling waters, is an ideal place to rest. To sit, just taking long breaths of that magnificent air, and basking in Colorado's peculiar brand of sunshine is to invite new life. Then, of course, there are all sorts of outdoor pleasures to interest those disposed to activity.

Let me send you the "Burlington Route" Handbook of Colorado, which tells all about the country, the hotels, boarding places, ranches, etc., their rates for board, and all about it. I can also tell you all about the trains, the price of tickets, etc., and will be glad to reserve sleeping car bettha, look after checking your baggage, and take all the details of your trip off your hands. Kindly write—a postal will do.
